A-State presidential search ends; Trustees select Whillock president

After months of screening prospective candidates for the soon to be vacated position of Arkansas State University president, Carl S. Whillock, 51, was selected in late December by the ASU Board of Trustees to succeed current ASU president Dr. Ross Pritchard.

Pritchard announced May 14, 1977, that he would not seek renewal of his present contract. Whillock, who is to assume the position July 1, is currently vice president for governmental relations and public affairs at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

When Whillock was notified of the board's decision he said, "I'm deeply honored, deeply honored, to have been selected to lead Arkansas State University."

According to ASU trustee Mike Beebe of Searcy, Whillock was selected from a list of more than 100 candidates. He said, "In the final analysis it was evident to the Board of Trustees that his background and performance in higher education in Arkansas were indicative of the capability we sought."

Whillock, a native of Scotland, received his BS in social welfare in 1948 and a MA in history and political science in 1951, both from the U. of A. He earned his doctor of Jurisprudence (law degree) at George Washington University in 1969.

Union Board sells out at first dinner theater with Neil Simon play

"Last of the Red Hot Lovers," a three-act comedy by Neil Simon, which was presented March 1-2 in the Carl R. Reng Center Ballroom sold out both nights according to Vicki Stream, union program director.

The play was presented in the Union Board's first dinner theater attempt.

Tom Strickland of Blytheville, chairperson of the UB co-curricular committee, said the production was "solely for student enjoyment." However, he noted that the UB actually lost in the venture.

The four-member cast for the play consisted of Lee Griffin of Hardy as Barney Cashman, Suzanne Boyles of Jonesboro as Elaine Navazio, Candy Tennison of Jonesboro as Bobbi Michele and Mary Walker of Marked Tree as Jeanette Fisher.

The play, which takes place in a New York apartment in the early 1930's, was directed by Richie Nelms of Jonesboro.

Tennessee Town—

Rail Car Explosion Toll High

WAVERLY, Tenn. (AP) — A propane tanker loaded with liquid propane exploded in the heart of this town Friday, setting businesses ablaze, injuring up to 100 persons, and state officials said at least five were dead. Initial reports were that at least 21 were killed.

Hopewell, Tenn., head of the state Civil Defense Council said in Nashville said said that a lieutenant General Carl Wagner had been killed. Ray Benton, head of the state disaster operations, had originally said the figure of 21 dead but that he could not immediately say why Wagner was injured, given out in early reports, not been released.

Earlier, Benton County Sheriff Wayne Davis said he had counted 16 bodies.

Accounts from authorities and reporters said homes and businesses as far as four blocks away from the blast were afire. Firemen said a main water line was ruptured during the blast forcing them to pump water from nearby Trace Creek.

A second propane loaded tanker caught fire, and one official said a firemen could do was keep it boxed down to keep it from preventing a second explosion.

Right now it is raining, Wallace said at a brief news conference. He said that the extent of the destruction is casualities.

The blast occurred while railroad firemen were transferring propane from two cars that derailed along with 21 others Wednesday night.

H. H. Bixler, a Department of Transportation official said, "We were taking every precaution in the world during the transfer operation."

He said the responsibility for following prescribed procedure in dealing with propane was that of Civil Defense authorities and that he had direct knowledge they were carried out.

Bixler said residents were evacuated from their homes near wreckage before the propane transfer began, that it had been determined cars were structurally sound so as to pose the threat of leaks, and that natural gas and electricity service was shut off in the area.

It goes up like an atomic bomb, said of propane, adding that even spark from a two-way radio transmission could ignite it.

We did everything we possibly knew to do. But it happened. See RAIL Page 2

Farmers Agree On One Office

By J. H. THORNTON
Consolidating the Craighead County farm strike office into a central office in Lake City was unanimously approved by 25 county farmers attending an American Farmall Movement meeting in Lake City Friday night.

There is no way Craighead County can run four separate offices, W. Cornwell, organizer of the session, said. He explained that Greene County is run by one office and went on to say that in Craighead County, in four times the expenditures, it Greene County has and they have done relatively well under one office with less expenses.

The four offices, previously operation were located in More Lake City, Caraway and Brookland. Each local office has been asked the statewide organization to make See FARMERS Page 2

Coal Workers End 3-month Strike

WASHINGTON, AP — President Carter announced Friday night that a tentative contract followed essentially the agreement worked out earlier this week between the union and the independent Pittsburgh & Midway Coal Mining Co. It would increase miners' wages by $2.40 an hour over the next three years. That will mean an average daily wage of $81.60 for miners who now get an average $62.40 a day.

Total wages and benefits would rise about 37 percent over the life of the agreement.

The government sources said the contract also calls for penalties against leaders and pickets in wildcat strikes, although the industry dropped its demand for fines against UMW members who honor the contract lines.

Miller said the new contract was better than the old agreement on several points, notably a guaranteed retirement plan. This was a concession on the part of the operators.

He said they were delighted to get an agreement. Miller said it was a long, bitter, hard fought struggle.

The first reaction in the coalfields to the proposed settlement was mixed. Dennis Scarford, secretary-treasurer of UMW District 31 in West Virginia predicted ratification saying that a lot of miners will vote for it because they've been out so long.

But Ray Lindahl, president of UMW Local 1609 in western Pennsylvania said the agreement "will never be ratified if it's similar to the P&M agreement. It's taken too much away from us."

Carter made his announcement at the White House press room. He appeared on national television to announce what he said would have been a drastic decision. He said the negotiated agreement would be far better for the miners and the nation.

In a brief appearance, he said at least both on radio and television and he used it to appeal directly to the strikers to approve the settlement.

The choice is now yours to make, but I hope you will follow the lead of your bargaining council and ratify the settlement. It serves the national interest as well as your interests and those of your families. If it is not approved, I will be forced to take the drastic action I was prepared to take tonight.

Carter's daily was expected to involve a strike by provoking the U.S. House of Representatives to consider a bill to take the coal industry out of federal control.

Carter said he will appoint a new presidential commission to look into labor and management problems involving health, safety and production.

Suit Alleges Discrimination Against Man

Felix Taylor, a member of the Jonesboro NAACP chapter which has filed a series of complaints of discrimination by the city against black citizens, has filed suit in U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, Jonesboro Division, naming Craighead County Sheriff Floyd Johnson, Deputy Sheriff H. C. Todd, attorneys Olan Parker, Mike Walder and Troy Henry, Circuit Judge Gerald Pearson and the Bank of Northeast Arkansas as defendants.

The suit alleges racial discrimination by the defendants against Taylor over a legal action filed against Taylor by the bank.

The law firm of Parker and Henry represents the bank and Parker and Walder are deputy prosecuting attorneys. Taylor's complaint identifies Henry as a deputy prosecutor though he is not.

Taylor's suit maintains that legal process regarding the execution upon a bank note was carried on in a racially discriminatory manner. See SUIT Page 2

ASU Athletics—

Division 1A Goal

By DIANE STOLTZ

The Arkansas State University Board of Trustees unanimously agreed Tuesday on a resolution endorsing a declaration for 1A status in the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Due to a reorganization in the NCAA structure, division 1A is being split into 1A and 1AA. The 1A status is for lesser athletic powers. Division 1A includes the University of Arkansas, Notre Dame, the University of Michigan and other large universities.

ASU President Ross Pritchard asked for the Board's approval of this resolution as the only way to withstand further reorganization by NCAA.

Pritchard said that he believed the Southland Conference will go for 1A status unanimously.

The resolution was passed as a means of instruction from the Board to Athletic Director Dean Pryor who will attend a meeting Thursday in Shreveport, La. with other representatives of the Southland Conference to determine their next action.

Resolutions from the faculty athletic group and from the Student Senate both back a declaration for division 1A.

The criteria for 1A was formerly based on attendance records and stadium capacity, both of which would eliminate smaller universities from the rating. The participation in 12 NCAA-recognized sports was then added as a substitute for either or both of the criteria.

This move opened the door in schools that would have been precluded from the original criteria, said Pritchard.

ASU now offers eight sports and if approved for 1A would have three years in which to add four more sports from an area that includes rowing, wrestling, swimming, water polo and soccer. An additional year would serve as a probationary period.

Inclusion in 1A would benefit ASU in athletic recruiting and the scheduling of big-name opponents.

Pritchard advised the Board of a preliminary report from four agricultural consultants from outside Arkansas who strongly favor the addition of a master's program.

agriculture for ASU. Pritchard said the report called ASU "one of two multi-purpose universities in the state with a distinct role to play in agriculture."

The preliminary findings also called the ASU wildlife management program one of the strongest in the state.

When finalized this report will be turned over to the Department of Higher Education.

In more follow-up action on the Board's November decision to utilize existing buildings when possible for renovation rather than request substantial new construction, they agreed to approach the legislature in an extended August session to redesignate $1.5 million from the fund for a new fieldhouse to pay for renovation of the Chickasaw Cafeteria.

Pritchard reported that a study has proven that a building is structurally sound and can be renovated for less than a new building. The Board and the legislature are now studying the study. The study is being used by the legislature to justify the use by Arkansas of the federal funds which would be available for renovation.

RE-ELECTED — Mike Boobe, Searcy attorney, was re-elected chairman of the Arkansas State University Board of Trustees during Tuesday's meeting.

Landowner Says—

Regulations for United States Farm Woe

CURRIDGE

The future of an agricultural has never been in as much jeopardy than it is today.

Lenton Jr., a well known Mississippi farmer and landowner, said he is chairman of the Board of the National Cotton Council of America. He told members of the Jonesboro Rotary Club Tuesday.

Denton noted that the symbolic tract of land of the American Agriculture Movement are dramatic evidence there is financial trouble on farms that results in costs exceeding incomes.

He maintains the cause at least the principal cause of the ever increasing cost of production that makes it necessary to increase farm product prices in the market place is a barrage of government regulations.

If a farmer has worked the soil for a year or later must requirements of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) be used pesticides he has to apply them and buy them according to the dictates of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). If he grows food and fiber his products are subject to the whims of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) or the Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC).

And that's just the beginning, Denton stated. There is no way I could possibly list all of the government regulations that directly affect farming operations today in only a 30-minute talk.

Denton noted that farmers have been pretty adept at fighting insects, weeds, droughts, floods and things like that, but there is one thing farmers cannot long endure and still survive. That is the continuing increases in costs of day to day farming operations. The frustrating thing is that a big part of these increased costs stems from government regulations, he said. Which are totally unreasonable, impractical and were not needed in the first place.

Farmers are concerned about the environment, he said. We like to hunt and fish and swim. We want to breathe clean air and drink clean water. We want our workers to be reasonably safe and healthy. We too are consumers very large consumers and we want the products we buy to be reasonably safe.

Farmers do not dispute the need for regulations that are necessary and existed the expense of developing new pesticides has risen over 300 per cent. This is mainly because of excessive regulations, he said.

The number of new pesticides coming on the market has dropped from about 700 a year to about 25 a year. Unless this trend is stopped the incentive for bringing new pesticides into the market may be completely destroyed, Denton stated, adding that chemical manufacturers are also showing reluctance to going through the expensive process of having older pesticides re-registered.

He referred to EPA's new procedure called "It PAIR" in which pesticides can be classified as having a rebuttable presumption against re-registration without the EPA having to give any scientific basis for the decision.

The burden of proof is on the manufacturer in the guilty until proven innocent situation, Denton said. It could take up to a year for the agency's administrator to decide whether or not to cancel a registration. As a result, as that are passed along to the consumer, increased prices for pesticides and farm chemicals are no longer available and farmers are paying more for substitutes that are less effective.

Under the OSHA regulations, farmers are required to wear a respirator and a full protective suit when using pesticides. This is a burden on the farmer, he said, and the rule has been suspended by Congress for a year at a time.

Lowe Quits City Parks Chief Post

Carroll Lowe, director of parks and recreation for the City of Jonesboro since Oct. 1, 1976 has resigned effective March 31. In accept a recreation development position with a Mississippi-based corporation.

Lowe announced his resignation this morning during a special called meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

If Congress fails to continue extending the suspension, he noted, and the rule goes into effect, International Harvester says it will cost farmers about a billion dollars.

New machinery must meet the "tip points" regulations and that has added to machinery costs.

One of OSHA's more far-reaching regulations has not yet been completed. That regulation has to do with cotton dust and its alleged connection with a lung disease called Byssinosis. While the disease is associated with cotton dust, no one knows what in the dust causes it.

In 1971 OSHA imposed a dust stan-

It has been estimated that the regulation on cotton dust if fully implemented would add nearly 30 cents per pound to the cost of using cotton.

Senator Backing Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, a Democrat, is backing a treaty to ratify the Comprehensive Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, despite threats of political reprisals.

The New Hampshire senator's announcement was accompanied by harsh denunciation of some conservatives who he said seek not to compete honorably but only to annihilate those they see as enemies.

In a speech on the Senate floor McIntyre called upon his colleagues to stand up and face down the bully boy of the radical new right, whom he accused of "loutish primitivism."

The speech brought swift reaction from both sides in the debate over the treaty.

Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., a supporter of the treaty, said McIntyre's decision and his explanation of it "demonstrate the highest kind of character." He said I was one of the most effective speeches he had heard in 32 years in public office.

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, a treaty opponent, told McIntyre "I don't like radical conservatives either" but added that labor unions and liberal organizations also employ pressure tactics to influence votes.

Track is “classic” at Arkansas State

Indians take first in all-Arkansas field

Bell says good-bye to Arkansas State track

In his final season of eligibility in Arkansas State University track, Olympic pole-vaulter Earl Bell became the first American ever to clear 18 feet in Europe.

The outspoken Jonesboro native also posted his third consecutive NCAA pole vault victory.

ASU gains recognition in outdoor track and field

Arkansas State University's track program gains in prestige each year as individual and team efforts lead to honors in almost every meet entered. This can be attributed in part to the talented young men involved in the program and in part to the outstanding coaching staff. Coach Guy Kochel and assistant coach Tom Hill, pictured opposite above left, offer their knowledge and guidance to make yesterday's high school stars the college and professional athletes of tomorrow. Darrell Burris, who ran cross country in 1977, will serve as a graduate assistant coach for the 1978 season. He is pictured opposite above right.

Individual talent abounds in ASU baseball

Because of the renovation of Kell Field, Rich Johnson and his 1977 baseball Indians were forced to move their home schedule to the Jonesboro American Legion Field near Berry's Truck Stop. There they composed a 15-34 season.

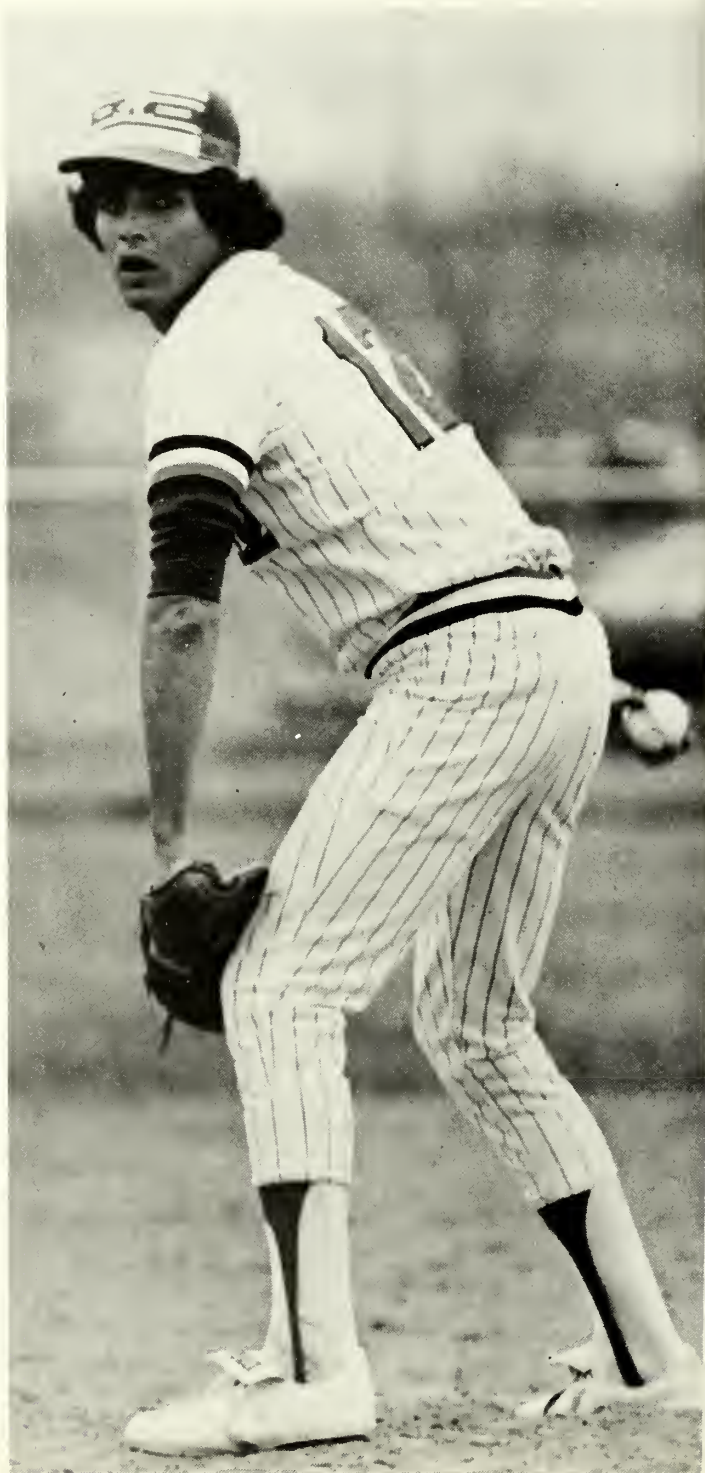

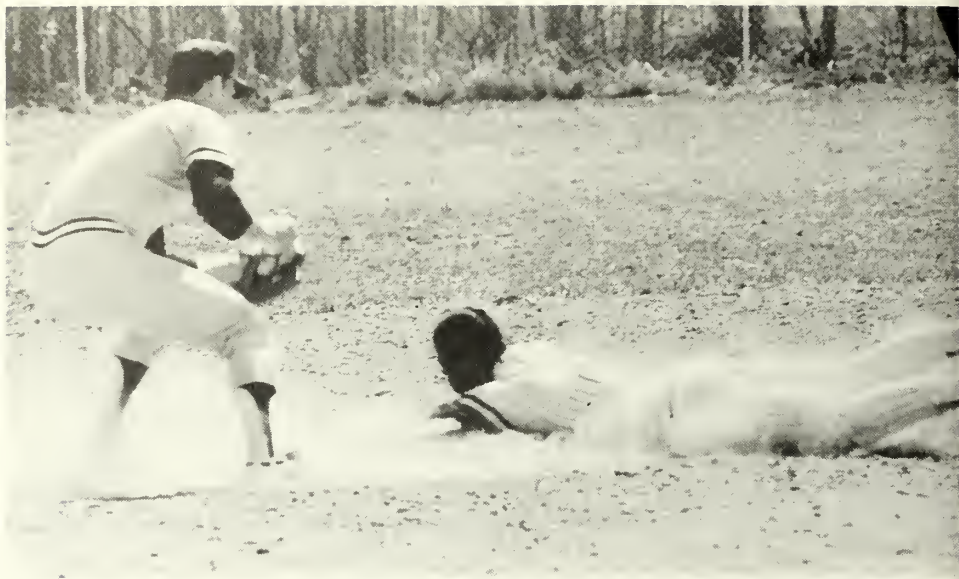

The move put a damper on the team's spirits but not on its individual performances. Although there were many new players at critical positions, the Indians rewrote the records, both good and bad.

Young team Posts 9-12 record

ASU men's tennis team, composed of one returning letterman and five new faces, jumped off to a super start but was unable to maintain its pace during the meat of its schedule.

Gibson advances to regionals

Despite a poor showing during the season, the 1977 tennis team finished fourth in the AWISA State Tournament held in Little Rock.

During the season Marcia Gibson carried the squad as she advanced to the regional tournament and was the only Arkansas player to move ahead.

On the year the team finished 2-8-2 with the two wins coming against Arkansas-Monticello and Henderson State.

Golf team shoots best ASU score

A two-under par score against Southwestern of Tennessee was the highlight of the 1977 golf season. The 286 tally was the best team score in Arkansas State University history.

Overall the team finished 3-2 and they placed 11th in the Louisiana Tech Tournament and 5th in the Southland Conference Tournament.

The Arkansas State University Indians opened the season on the road and came home two weeks later with one win and one loss.

The win came in the season opener against Drake. The Tribe, not known for its passing ability, threw 15 times in that first game that it won over the Bulldogs 31-29.

The Indians had to do some last minute defensive heroics as Drake threatened with a late pass which was knocked down at the goal line.

Then with spirits high, the Indians traveled to Natchitoches, La., for a game that turned out to be mostly a one-sided rout by the Demons of Northwestern University. The Indians lost 30-7.

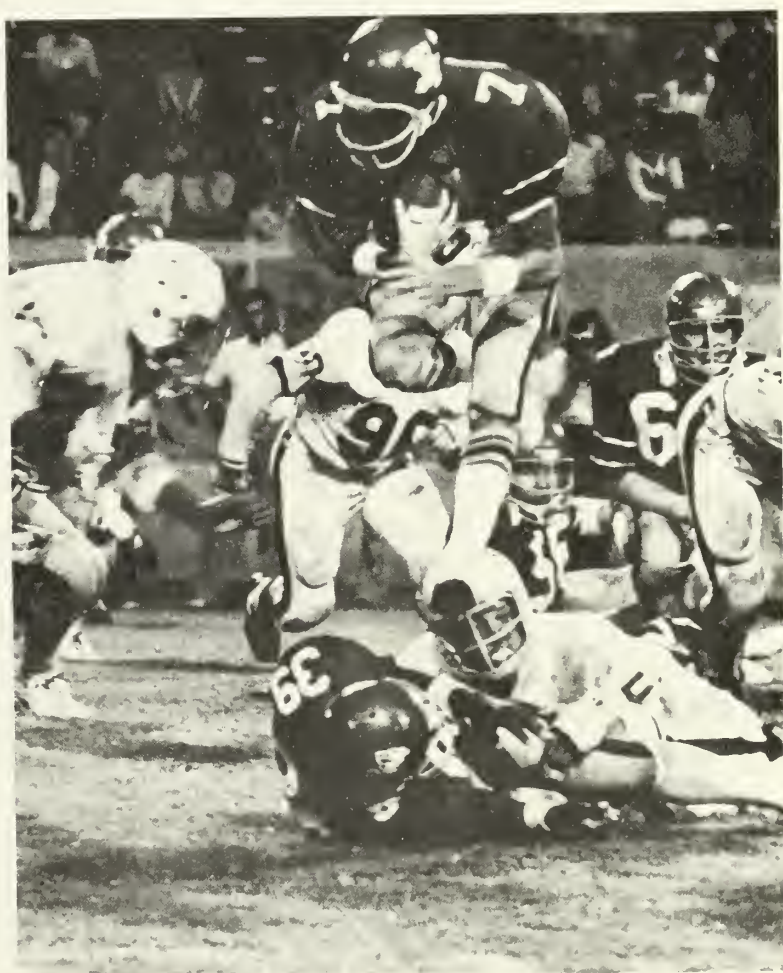

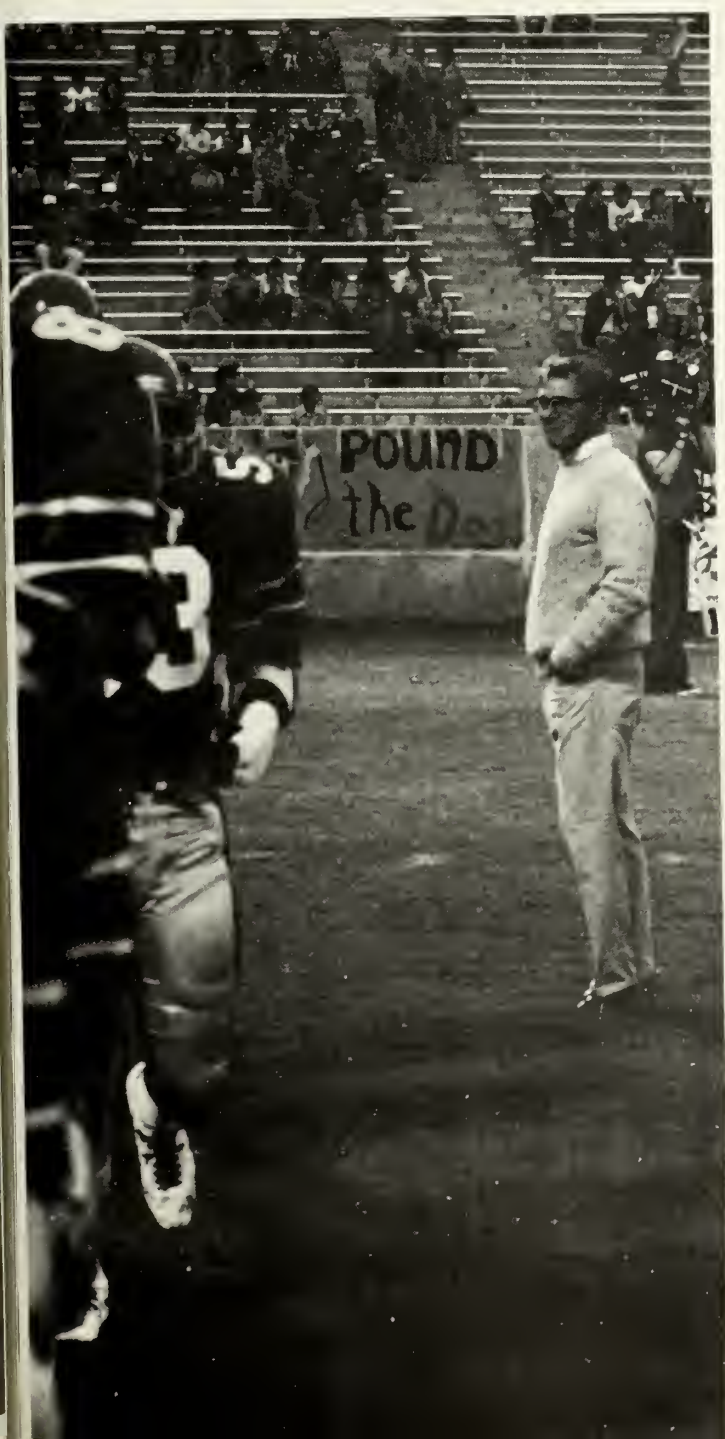

With the next game at home, the Indians started all over from scratch and mapped out a new plan of attack for the home opener against Southern Illinois University.

Whatever the plan, the Indians were in complete control of the contest and came away with a 21-6 win over the Salukis.

Indians come home;
two wins, one loss

The Tribe, still learning as a result of the season being so young, prepared for its second home game of the year and for the East Texas Lions.

The Lions, who were a nationally ranked NAIA team, came into Indian Stadium and were ready to fight.

The Indians had everything to lose and the Lions had it all to gain. However, in the end the Indians and the foot of kicker Doug Dobbs came away with a 18-17 win.

Indians stop Lions

After the well appreciated home stand, the Indians took to the road, this time to Beaumont, Texas and the Lamar Cardinals.

The contest was not a high scoring one as both defenses had excellent showings, but A-State came away with its fourth win on the year, 10-6 over the Cardinals.

Then the Tech Bulldogs came to Jonesboro and neither the Wreck Tech Week nor the spirit and noise of Band Day could help the Indians as Tech won 20-7.

Tribe splits two, Wins Homecoming

The next two games the Tribe split. The first was a disappointing loss to the McNeese Cowboys in Lake Charles, 17-14.

However, the Indians came back the following week and beat Northeast Louisiana at Monroe, 31-20.

Then came the game that everyone was waiting for ... Southwestern Louisiana and the Homecoming hupla. Both proved to be well worth the wait.

USL came into the game fired up and ready for the Indians. But ASU was equally ready and proved to fans on hand that it can play exciting football.

Two late fourth-quarter scores put the Tribe on top in the close battle that ASU won, 17-15.

Indians bounce back,

After a nerve-racking Homecoming victory, the Tribe saw the end of its season fast approaching.

But after the rout by the Texas-Arlington Mavericks, the end was thought to have come a week too soon.

The Mavs came to Jonesboro with one of the lesser records of the season. However, they handed the ASU group its fourth loss of the year, 44-14.

But the Indians put the beating behind them and headed South to play Southern Mississippi. There the Indian defense held the powerful Eagles to only 10 points and the offense contributed two touchdowns to give the Indians a final win on the year.

Coaches are backbone of football program

Coaches are the backbone of the football program. They have a wide variety of responsibilities that evolve around the whole year, not just the football season itself. Coaches are, clockwise from below: Head Coach Bill Davidson; defensive backfield coach, Tim Keane; defensive coordinator, Mike Malham; graduate assistant, Pat Massey; Coach Davidson with offensive coordinator, Bill Templeton; and Coach Malham in action.

Coaches, managers and trainers

Not only do the coaches tell what to do, but they demonstrate the proper techniques and form for the players to follow. They play an active role during the games — either in the booths above the field or on the sidelines to relay the messages. Below, offensive line coach Gary Withrow shows the proper form for his linemen to use, and right, defensive interior coach Parker Dykes dons the headset during a contest at Indian Stadium.

Tommies take state title

When an undefeated conference season, and one of the best overall records in Arkansas State history, occurs there are bound to be post-season awards; and the volleyball Tomahawks had plenty.

Four of the Tommies were selected for AWISA honors and head coach Kay Woodiel was selected AWISA Coach of the Year. The 39 straight conference wins helped the Tomahawks to their 26-10 record and got the team into the four-state, 16-team regional tournament where they placed 5th.

The Tommies were state champions for the year and played in tournaments at Ole Miss, Memphis State and St. Louis.

Four Arkansas State volleyball Tomahawks were named to the AWISA All-Conference team for their play during the 1977 season.

Juli Vaccari, right, was selected to the team for the third straight year and Vicki Nelms, below left, was voted for her second. Nora King, below right, who received honorable mention last year, was also selected to the team. The fourth, Cheryl Buckmeier, was chosen honorable mention this year.

Bowlers strike another winning season

Indians battle through tough schedule, end season at 9-18

Before the season started, things looked good and hopes were high around Arkansas State basketball. Head coach Marvin Adams never had a losing record. ASU had a new assistant coach in Gary Cardinal and the Indians had the first seven-footer in Arkansas history.

But as the season wore on, those hopes started to fade as the Indians began to drop games. At the mid-point of the season the Indians were 7-7 with the conference matches looming ahead. Conference play found the Tribe struggling to stay in the games and ASU lost their last seven straight.

The Indians finished 9-18 on the season and 2-8 in Conference play, thus suffering their worst showing in SLC competition history.

Many factors attributed to the poor showing of the Tribe. One such factor occurred when junior varsity players were forced to take varsity positions left vacant by three ASU players who were dismissed from the squad for disciplinary reasons. Another related to the Indians having to play one of the toughest schedules in their history which included such teams as Pan American, Oklahoma State, and the University of Nevada — Las Vegas.

Coaches bring new game plan to ASU

Both of the Indian chiefs had been associated with successful programs in their coaching duties before coming to ASU. Together the two coached the Tribe in a new, slowed-down type of basketball during the season. They also brought a more disciplined game plan to ASU basketball.

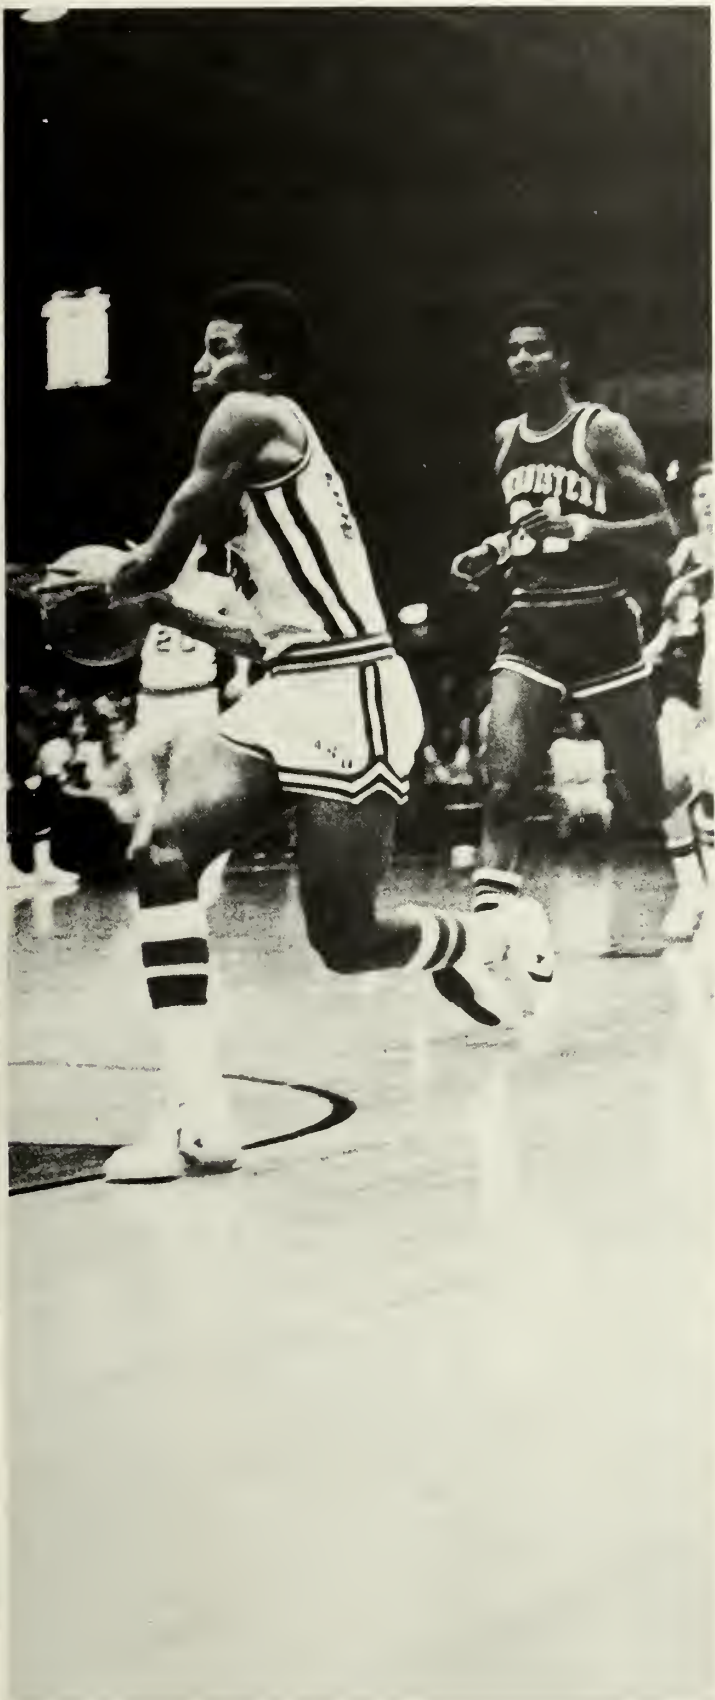

Cheerleaders add spirit, enthusiasm to Indian basketball

This year's Indian basketball cheerleaders not only cheered at the games, but they also made signs for the home games, passed out flyers reminding students of upcoming contests, decorated the bulletin board in the fieldhouse throughout the season and accompanied the team to several away games.

The cheerleaders for the 1977-78 season were, front, Debbie Lax, Cheri Kennedy. Middle, Belinda Beall, Vicki Allison, Karen Summers. Back, Tammy Crout and Sandra Mitchell.

Tomahawks end season 15-7

The basketball Tomahawks started off the season in top shape and they got off to a good start, winning their first seven games before losing to Union of Tennessee.

On the season, the Tommies finished 15-7 and 14-4 in conference competition. Top scorers for the squad were Karen Carlew with 346 points, Sue Jayroe with 321 and Kimmie Glenn with 243.

AWISA selects ASU's Carlew to first team

Arkansas State's Karen Carlew was selected to the All-AWISA team as a result of her outstanding play during the 1977-78 season.

Carlew, who finished the season as the Tomahawks top scorer with 346 points, had a shooting percentage of 43 and from the line Carlew was even better with a 71 per cent.

She was the Tomahawks' top individual scorer in nine games and was the top individual rebounder in six contests.

Tommies add new coach to staff

Arkansas State University women's basketball saw quite a few new faces this year, one of which was a new assistant coach, Sara Wooley, right.

Sara, who took over many of the duties of head coach Kay Woodiel, graduated from Southern Arkansas in 1976 after playing basketball there and receiving many honors and awards.

GREEKS

Why do they call it RUSH?

Formal rush is a time of decisions. Rushees must make their selection after attending teas and parties at which they become acquainted and are entertained by members of Greek organizations. For most students, rush is an introduction to college life as a Greek.

March 9, 1978

Dear ASU:

Here's your 1977-78 yearbook. My staff and I went to an awful lot of trouble putting it together for you. I'll admit that sometimes we wondered if all our efforts would be appreciated. Sometimes we wanted to quit. But we didn't!! There were bad times, but, looking back, it is much easier to recall the fun.

I would like to thank some very nice people that helped us with the parts of the book over which we stumbled (maybe "tripped and fell" would be more appropriate). The Jonesboro Sun and the ASU Sports Information Department were helpful with pictures as usual. And Karen Manning acted as our unofficial class editor when she did the most tedious job of all in compiling the class section.

The photography staff was uncooperative while all the time trying to seem congenial and hard-working. Somehow, with their combined talents, they managed to produce just enough pictures to fill up our pages. Dennis Layer did an exceptional job as chief photographer while trying to coordinate the efforts (or non-efforts) of Allan Bounds, Doug Douglas, Rod Rodriguez, Kent Claxton and Ruth Coker. Special thanks go to Rod and Kent who saved my sanity at the beginning of the second semester.

My editorial staff consisted of four absolute dolls. They were not only hard-working, when I threatened to beat them with a stick, but also managed to get their pages done when I wasn't even in town. Karen Huber did a terrific job of filling my shoes when I wasn't around to fill them myself. She not only got the Greek composites and activities done but found the time to help everyone else.

Dorothy Bland was the strong, silent type. She had to be strong to get the Student Life section, some 95 pages, done by herself. She was silent because not once did I hear her complain about the long hours and the lack of pictures.

Jerri Dickinson had the tedious job of identifying every member of every organization that had their picture made for the book. Typing all of those names was an awesome task, but she managed a cheerful attitude. I did hear her sigh with relief when her section was done.

Cindy Gibson was her usual talented, fun-loving self. It amazes me how she can make everything fun, even staying up all night working on the sports section. I really don't see how she managed to work with me for all of those long hours and not go crazy in the process.

Tom Manning and Alice Hedger have the unenviable positions of continuous staff members. They have to put up with the same stuff over and over each year. Tom, pictured below, is a great adviser and a great friend. Alice and her secretarial abilities are indispensable. I'd call her the yearbook's "Dear Abby."

I hope you can appreciate the many hours of work and play that went into your yearbook. As they say at McDonald's, "We do it all for you!"

Sincerely,

Connie Daws
